

WILL CLASSIFY THE ENGINEERS

New Haven to Give Locomotive Men Thirty Days Notice of the Proposed Change

The latest in railroad circles has it that the New Haven management will classify the locomotive engineers of the system. It is understood that the classification will be as follows:

The first class men will run express passenger trains; second class will be confined to the local passenger service; the third will haul freight trains and the fourth will run switching engines in station yards. The railroad will give the men 30 days' notice of this proposed change.

It is whispered among the cab drivers that the men do not take kindly to such an arrangement and are likely to oppose it when representatives of both sides take up the matter in a hearing. The change, if made, will affect the New York, New Haven and Hartford system only.

REQUESTING COUNTY TO PURCHASE TOLL BRIDGES

Petition in Circulation Re- questing Action Under Law Passed at Last Session

A petition is being circulated in the city asking that the county authorities take over the bridges to New Castle as a public highway. The last legislature enacted a law giving the county authority to take over toll bridges by purchase and permitting them to issue bonds if necessary. The petition was passed about the city by W. I. Haywood and received many signatures.

Major David Uch, the treasurer of the New Castle Bridge Co., who has maintained these finely kept properties has never objected to selling the property at a fair price.

TREADWELL WILL PROBATED

Local Charities and Several Citizens Remembered--Hon. Calvin Page and Col. Bartlett Executors

At a session of the probate court this morning before Judge L. G. Hoyt the will of the late Robert O. Treadwell was offered for probate by Hon. Calvin Page and Colonel John H. Bartlett, attorneys and executors, under the will. The deceased remembered many local charities and quite a number of local citizens. The following is an abstract of the will and will be read with much local interest.

Dr. Robert O. Treadwell executed a will on January 27, 1907. He executed the first codicil on January 5, 1908. He executed the second codicil on June 28, 1908. The result of the foregoing will and codicils is briefly stated as follows:

He made the following gifts to charity:

Portsmouth Hospital, "to be put to such uses and purposes as my executor shall designate" $5,000

Chase Home for Children, to be known as the "Daniel H. Treadwell Fund" 2,000

Portsmouth Home for Aged and Indigent Women 2,000

Young Men's Christian Assoc. 1,000

Portsmouth Athenaeum 1,000

St. John's Episcopal Church 3,000

Methodist Episcopal Church 1,000

He made the following absolute legacies:

Marion W. Treadwell $20,000

Ann Langdon Shackford 40,000

Caroline Treadwell 25,000

Mrs. George L. Treadwell 1,000

Grace Treadwell 10,000

Prof. Frederick Treadwell 10,000

Widow of the late John Treadwell 1,000

Each of the living children of

John Treadwell 1,000

Dr. J. L. M. Willis 2,000

Manning Rollins 5,000

Willbra H. Spinnay 20,000

Alice M. Craig 2,000

Annie E. Spinnay 2,000

Annie E. Treadwell 2,000

Lena M. MacCharles 2,000

Robert W. Phinney 1,000

William Brennan 1,000

Prof. Justus Ehardt 5,000

The following legacies lapsed on account of death:

Dr. John W. Parsons $1,000

Prof. Frank Goodwin 2,000

Susan E. Ham 2,000

After the payment of the foregoing legacies the remainder of his estate is left in trust, from the income of which his widow, Marion W. Treadwell, is to receive $300 per month during her life, and if my balance of income exists from said trust fund, the excess over $300 per month during the life of the widow goes to his two nieces, Ann Langdon Shackford and Caroline Treadwell.

After the decease of his widow, the whole of the income of this trust is to be divided equally between Ann Langdon Shackford and Caroline Treadwell during their lives, and the life of the survivor of them, and at their death it goes to their children, if any; otherwise it goes to the heirs at law of Dr. Treadwell, as shall be determined at that time.

The contents of the residence on State street equally to his widow, Mrs. Shackford and Miss Caroline Treadwell, and the residence on State street is to be owned by the widow, if she desires it, if not, by said two nieces; and if not by them, is to be sold and the proceeds of the sale to go into the trust.

Calvin Page and John H. Bartlett are executors of the will, and John H. Bartlett is trustee of the trust created in the will.

The executors are given power under the will to sell the real estate of which the estate is chiefly composed, but not until they can get proper prices therefor in their discretion, and the payment of all legacies is postponed until such time as the real estate is sold.

THAW IN COURT

Big Legal Battle Is On Exciting Time Among Legal Lights

Sherbrooke, Canada, Sept. 2.—Harry K. Thaw was given a private hearing this noon while thousands of citizens stood in front of the court house and cheered him. The judge modified his decision so as to allow the reporters and lawyers in. The battle was still on at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

There are three courses open to the judge. He can adjourn the hearing until a later date and ask both sides to submit briefs, he can sustain the writ, which will instantly make Thaw a free man, and place him within the grasp of the immigration officers; or he can deny the writ and remand the prisoner back to jail to await disposition of his case by the king's bench in October.

Contend Writ Illegal

Thaw's lawyers maintained tonight that the writ having been sued out by a disinterested party, John Bourne, chief of police of Montreal, will not be upheld. Counsel for New York were equally emphatic in expressing their belief that Thaw would be released and asked for deportation.

EAGLES' OUTING. Big Day at the Pinkham Farm at Dover Point.

Mercedes Acle, No. 882, Fraternal Order of Eagles, gathered at the Pinkham farm, Dover Point, on Labor Day where they held their annual outing and enjoyed a champagne. The affair was confined to Eagles only and several out of town members of the order were on the grounds from Dover, Somersworth, Newmarket and Rochester. A fine list of sports was run off during the day including a baseball game between the married and single men. The single men went down in defeat by a score of 6 to 1. In seven innings. The lineup:

Married Men—Shumway, p; Bartlett, c; Brown, 1b; Welch, 2b; Lane, 3b; Langdon, ss; Pinkham, rf; Orey, cf; Thomas, lf.

POLICE NEWS.

Michael Ferrell appeared at the station today with warrants for the arrest of his brother Rocco Ferrell, and his wife also Antonio Di Cicco. He charges them each with threatening bodily harm. The affair appeared to have been a family affair and there is a warrant for Michael himself. The case comes up in the district court on Wednesday morning and no doubt will keep everybody connected with the hall of justice busy for a part of the day.

Sheriff Busy

Sheriff Spence and Deputies Shaw of Portsmouth, Webster of Derry and Tilton of Exeter, raided the residence of George Fairbanks of Londonderry on Sunday. They found evidence of keeping liquor for sale and ordered Fairbanks in the district court at Derry on Thursday next for a hearing.

Vacations for Officers

The patrolmen have drawn for their annual vacations, which will begin on Sept. 5. The first to go will be Officer Shannon of the day force and Officer Carlton of the night squad.

Throng of 5000 Attend and Enjoy the Fine Exhibit Gov. Felker There

There were more people in Newington on Monday than ever before in its history for the first annual fair of the Piscataqua Grange drew over 4000 people to the busy little town and about everybody was convinced that the members of the Piscataqua Grange are the most mistling aggregation in this county at least, in pulling off an affair of this magnitude with such great success.

The fair was blessed with ideal weather and this combined with the holiday made it the object point of everybody for miles around. The packed greatly outnumbered the fondest expectations of the managers of the fair but they hustled about and tried to make the most of it and handled the crowd in the best way possible, in this they were assisted by four of Portsmouth's finest officers, Officers Murphy, Doherty, Anderson and McCaffery.

The fair itself was held on the Newington Plains which had been made ready for the different exhibits.

The first exhibit was the parade and this was made up of the different exhibits of the Grange, horses, etc., and it was stretched out over a considerable distance.

The prizes for the best team in the parade was awarded to Hon. Woodbury Langdon from the Fox Point farm. I. C. Beane got second prize. The best decorated auto was awarded to Mrs. Charles A. Badger and S. A. Schurman got second.

For a show team W. A. Bragdon took first prize, with an old fashioned stage coach drawn by a team of four mules and all advertising his shoes.

The horseshoe on the Newington pollen took first prize in the Horseshoe.

The best farm team went to Howard Knox, Best riding horse Miss May Winn, second Miss Pauline Knox.

In the horse show the best driving team, blue was won by Joseph Bell.

The best saddles driving horse, the blue, was won by Miss Louise Walker, red, to Mrs. Eugene McCue of this city.

Blue for gentlemen's driving horse Eugene Dixon of Dover, the red to Joseph Bell of this city.

Blue for draft team, I. C. Beane, also for farm team and general team.

The horse racing was very interesting and it was best two out of three heats.

In class A, free for all pace, Miss McClure, Mr. Burton's first mare won first money, Nan K. with McCue won second, Red Flower with Tibbels up, took third and Milton Strong with H. McCue got fourth.

In class B, trotting, Alfre L. W. A. Bragdon's nut mare won first with Churchill driving. Brother Harding was in second place and Auto Berry won third.

In the pony race Frank Walker of Newmarket took first money.

In the stack show which was judged by Hiram Hayes, L. C. Beane won a bunch of blue ribbons, getting first on herd, first on bull, on aged cow, yearling heifer and bull calf.

Edwin Hawbridge won second on bull and first on cow.

Hayes farm won first on two years old heifer, second on herd and first on calves.

The Judges of parade and show horses were C. A. Allen, N. H. Beane and Louis Walker.

On cattle Hiram Hayes.

Eugene Dixon was starter and referee of the races.

C. A. Allen of this city at the clay pigeon shoot took first prize, a handsome gun.

In the Auto show race Bradman Randall of this city was the winner.

At noon there was a dinner served but the most of the crowd could not be accommodated and many had to return to their city.

There was in addition to the above awards exhibitions of fruit and vegetables.

The fair closed with a presentation of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" given in three acts by the local talent of Newington and this was their greatest success. It was sold in the place and for an open air performance it was remarkably well done.

The following was the cast of characters:

RAILROAD NOTES

Orders prohibiting unnecessary whistling of locomotives at North Berwick have been issued by the superintendent of the Portland division, Boston and Maine.

Orders have gone out over the Boston and Maine road prohibiting the employment of men under 21 in train and yard crews.

The locomotive of the passenger train leaving this city for Boston at 5:25 this morning blew out a cylinder head in the Salem terminal today which caused a blockade of traffic for a short time on both sides of the tunnel.

Proceedings have been brought in the supreme court by the Jersey Central to examine books of R. B. Shimmer & Co., commission merchants, attorneys representing the railroad stated that the company had been damaged $25,000 through connivance of employees of R. B. Shimmer & Co., and railroad inspectors who determine damage for breakage of eggs in train.

PANAMA CANAL NOW CONNECTED WITH PACIFIC

Panama, Sept. 1.—The last remaining barrier at the Pacific end of the Panama canal was blown up by dynamite Sunday morning. It was an interesting spectacle. At exactly 3:30 o'clock an electric switch was turned on and a moment later the last of the barriers, including the Shivers' cutting, were from the United States and the others of the board grader New Zealand were rewarded by a well-earned sight. Hundreds of tons of mud and stone were thrown high in the air, there they hung suspended and then fell back as the thunderous roar of the explosion reached in the nearby hills.

About twenty long tons equivalent to 41,000 pounds of 45 per cent dynamite constituted the blast, which was one of the largest ever set off in the canal.

The charge which was planted in 641 holes at an average depth of 30 feet, tore a big gap in the barrier but not to a sufficient depth to permit the water to flow through, as the sea level channel was at low tide.

Equally interesting as the explosion was the actual breaking of barrier this afternoon, the tide rising steadily until at 1:30 o'clock it was level with the top of the gap. A workman seized a shovel and made a small trench through which a flood of water trickled. Gradually it widened until an hour later a rushing torrent with a 25 foot fall poured through an opening 400 feet wide into that part of the canal between Gamboa locks and Miraflores locks which had been previously excavated by steam shovels.

This cut which is 5000 feet long, 500 feet wide and 41 feet below mean sea level, was entirely filled by 2 o'clock when the waters of the Pacific laved for the first time in the solid masonry of the Miraflores locks.

Dredges passed last night through the opening and in a few days the last vestiges of the barrier will be removed establishing a practically completed channel at the Pacific end. The dredging will begin on Sept. 2 to remove the last barrier of the Atlantic channel. When this work is completed ships may navigate to the locks at both ends.

$30,000 YEARLY FEE TO MELLON

New Haven Directors Decide to Retain As Adviser to Elliott

While a statement issued on Thursday by Charles S. Mellon indicated that Saturday would be the last day for which he would draw salary from the New Haven road, announcement made yesterday, that he would be paid $30,000 a year for five years for such services as he might give to the corporation, Howard Elliott, in the management and operation of the New Haven property, simultaneously with this announcement in the assertion, made in official statement, that Mr. Mellon will also be paid the equivalent of three years salary as president of the Boston and Maine, and Maine Central railroads.

In railroad circles it is understood that Mr. Mellon was paid nothing as president of the two subsidiary railroads of the New Haven and that his salary of $30,000 a year paid by the two Maine roads (the Portland and New Haven covered his services as the two Maine roads) but that when he resigned the presidency of the New Haven, the directors of the other two roads voted him a grant equivalent to what had been three years salary of each road before the New Haven took over its operation. It is equivalent to $70,000 and that it will be paid in a lump sum. Semi-officially it is stated that after consultation with the incoming president of the New Haven road, the directors of that company decided that Mr. Mellon's knowledge of matters pertaining and the general system of the operation of the road should be retained and paid for.

Recommendations that the name of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad be changed to that of either the New York and Boston Railroad company or the New York, New Haven and Boston Railroad Co. have been sent to President Eliot Howard Elliott by the executive committee of the Massachusetts rail route exchange.

With the large sums of money now being expended by the commonwealth of Massachusetts and the United States government for the development of the port of Boston it seems only fitting that Boston should be the terminal in name as well as in fact of the New York New Haven & Hartford Co., the latter reads.

ARMY CAMPS HEALTHY

The high degree of health maintained at the army maneuvers camp at Texas City and Galveston, Tex., where twelve thousand men have been under tents for the past six months, has convinced army medical officers that there will be no repetition of the "black camp" which marked Spanish War days. It was pointed out at the surgeon general's office today that in the six months since the mobilization of the troops there had been no case of typhoid fever among the men all of whom traveled from one to three days on trains to reach the camp. There has been no case of smallpox and but few cases of measles and mumps. Typhoid and smallpox have been kept away by the use of vaccine and mumps has been almost unknown due to local drainage of the camp to destroy breeding places for mosquitoes. A constant warfare is waged against flies in camps. Before the census of camp diseases were well understood it was known that a moving army was a healthy army compared to one under canvas but the results in the Texas camps convince officers that troops can be kept in the same camp for months with no danger of epidemics. These results are considered the more remarkable as the camps are pitched on rather unfavorable ground.

R. Clyde Marshall was chief marshal, and from that played the role of head waiter at the dinner with rare skill. He proved a hustler for the success of the fair.

The ladies of the Grange deserve no small amount of credit for the complete success of the fair.

CONCORD ALL STARS HAD EASY CONQ

A team from this city practically won the Concord Saturday and were defeated by an All Star team from the Concord League. In rather easy manner, the locals could not find Abrams after the first inning when they netted three hits and two runs. Kibalka was easy meat for the Concord team who battled him at will. Both teams played a fast fielding game, the Portsmouth infield being especially good and fast caught a fine game.

York Beach closed its season on two home grounds Saturday by defeating the Portsmouth Trojans 10 to 3. The game was well attended and was interesting throughout. Wear of York Beach pitched well, while Bennett was wild and ineffective.

Marquand of Rock Ridge played well for the bench, while Long excelled at bat for the Portsmouth team. Miss McDonald of Wakefield caught the last inning, but did not have a chance.

SWEEPING OVER MEXICO

Mexico City, Sept. 1.—A wave of patriotism appears to be sweeping over Mexico and from many states and from all classes, it is announced, assurances of allegiance and offers of service are being received daily by President Huerta and his Minister of War.

Plans are being made for as large a display as possible of military strength on Sept. 16 Independence Day, when it is proposed to hold a big parade in which 20,000 are expected to march.

The War Department has been called upon to furnish military instructors to a dozen cities, where the fear of being impressed for service against the revolutionists has given way before a later patriotic ardor. Thousands of all ages are asking to be drilled in the use of arms.

Nor is the aid afforded the Government confined to offers to serve in the ranks. A delegation of planters from the State of Morelos has waited upon the President and tendered a subscription of $200,000 pesos.

Ministers Gamboa and Urrutia of Foreign Affairs and the Interior respectively today issued denials of the declaration from the War Department concerning the shifting of army divisions headquarters from interior points to the coast and frontier. It is now explained that if these shifts are made it will be solely for the purpose of guarding against rebel operations.

In addition to the students of the preparatory schools, where military instruction has been enforced for some weeks, the manual of arms is being taught the workmen who are attending night schools and the employees of the Tax Department. The employees of several banks are also said to have organized a company and proffered their services.

The newspapers continue to devote themselves editorially to the subject of the late diplomatic exchanges dwelling upon the alleged sympathy and encouragement Mexico is receiving from the press of France, Germany and Great Britain.

The followers of Gen. Felix Diaz expect him to return to Mexico City not later than Oct. 4 to push his campaign for the Presidency. Senor Gamboa said today that no further instructions regarding the Japanese mission to which Gen. Diaz was appointed would be issued by his department until after November, the month in which the elections are to be held.

The excitement among American residents over President Wilson's warning subsided to a large degree over Sunday. A limited number of persons took their departure on the train to Vera Cruz today.

Consul General Shangklin spent most of the day in his office, but received fewer visitors than on previous days. The opinion is growing that the warning so far as regards the large centers will not be generally obeyed unless further information of a definite character is forthcoming.

OFFICIALLY NO CHANGE

Reports of Mobilization of Troops in Mexico Cause No Concern—Lind Still at Vera Cruz.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Sec. of State Bryan upon his return Monday from a short lecture trip announced that nothing had been received at the State Department from Mexico City to cause any alarm or to change the diplomatic situation.

The Secretary remained at home all day keeping in touch with the State Department by telephone. A few messages were received from the Embassy at Mexico City relating to routine developments, such as supplying Americans with means to leave Mexico, and a brief message came from the special American Envoy, John Lind, at Vera Cruz.

Mr. Lind, it was reassured, would remain in Vera Cruz tomorrow, at least so far as Administration officials here had any knowledge of his plans. That the Administration still is content to wait for expected hopeful developments is apparent on every hand. Pres. Wilson planning to remain in Cornish, N. H., for over Labor Day nothing having arisen to demand his immediate return to Washington.

Reports of new orders for mobilization of troops in Mexico by the provisional authorities caused no excitement in official circles here. At the War and Navy Departments, officers were on duty all day but no reports from the Mexican border were received regarding attempts to smuggle arms into Mexico in violation of the strict neutrality order from President Wilson.

The department discounted the reports from Mexico City that Huerta is gathering a real army. The information received here is that the Federal recruiting officers have induced a great number of undersized boys to join the depleted ranks of the Huerta forces. These enlistments have been brought about, it is asserted by glowing promises to youths of the poor class. Prospects of rewards in money and lands is reported to have allured them.

The Administration it was reported is encouraged by statements emanating from Mexico City which give strong indication that the Mexican authorities do not regard negotiations with the United States at an end and that they are expecting to hear further from the American confidential agent.

Whether Mr. Lind has received any further instructions from President Wilson since he went to Cornish has not been announced nor is there any official statement as to Mr. Lind's intention to reply to the last message from Senor Gamboa the Secretary of Foreign Affairs for the Provisional Government.

Tonight it was stated that no reports of anti-American demonstration had been received. This generally was regarded as a favorable sign in view of the fact that the exodus of Americans might have aroused some feeling.

Sec. of State Bryan has directed Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City to immediately inquire into the report not credited were that the Huerta Administration has been promised or received financial aid from Mexican banks and foreign financiers. Mr. O'Shaughnessy is expected to report tomorrow or Tuesday.

There will be due Oct. 1 a quarterly payment of 4,800,000 pesos on the bonds of the National Railways of Mexico. This money will be paid by the bankers directly to the bondholders. The Huerta treasury has no hand in the payment. Some of those here who are familiar with the situation expressed the opinion today that the reports concerning this bond interest has been misconstrued into a report that Huerta had negotiated a loan as a result of the popularity the Gamboa notes to Commissioner Lind are presumed to have brought him.

OBSERVED THEIR FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Colson observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home on Pray street Saturday.

Mr. Colson was born in Newbury, Mass., May 30, 1842, the son of Ambrose M. and Margaret J. Colson. When he was 12 years old he went to sea and for several years followed coasting.

On May 24, 1861, he enlisted in the 1st Massachusetts Infantry and took part in the first battle of Bull Run. He contracted rheumatic fever and at the expiration of 10 months service was discharged. He then journeyed the cattle trade at East Boston and came to this city in 1863, and found employment in the navy yard. He has worked there until recently. He is a member of Storer Post, G. A. R.

Mrs. Colson's maiden name was Emma Snow and she was born in Newburyport. Her marriage to Mr. Colson took place in this city Aug. 30, 1863, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. J. Patterson, then pastor of the Universalist Church. Five children were born two of whom are living, Fred and Mrs. George Kay; both residents of this city. There are six grandchildren.

NOTICE!

The members that have signified their intention of participating in the Firemen's Parade, are requested to report at the Central Station, not later than 10.30 a. m.

AT THE PORTSMOUTH
THEATRE THIS EVENING

SCENE FROM EUGENE WALTER'S STRIKING DRAMATIZATION OF JOHN FOX JR.'S BOOK, "THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE." IT COMES TO THE PORTSMOUTH THEATRE TUESDAY, SEPT. 2.

When John Fox, Jr., the author of "The Little Shepherd" of "Kingdom Come," resolved to put a woman at the Virginia Mountains into a novel, he followed his old plan of hewing a trail into the remotest spot of the Appalachian Mountain chain, where no dust of the outside world had penetrated; a place where he could find the ideal representation of the natural and the human. He went and returned and gave the world the delightful story, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," at the Portsmouth Theatre this evening.

Eugene Walter, read the book, followed the trail as Mr. Fox had placed it, wrote his play in a mountain "cove" and his visualization of the primitive mountain girl, June, has delighted thousands.

Mr. Walter admits that his sojourn in a Virginia mountain "cove" was among his most interesting experiences. A few days after his arrival at Lonesome Cove he invited a mountaineer to give his opinion as to whether the tract of land had ever been at the bottom of the sea, as the slides bear the mark of erosion. The mountaineer replied, "If it 'war so, 'twice before his pappy's or his grandpappy's time."

These coves were the first points settled because they afforded shelter both from the weather, which is often severe, and from the pursuing attentions of former neighbors in the valleys whose ideas of equity were widely warped by a too thorough appreciation of merely legal technicalities. The descendants of these first settlers now occupy the ground first cleared by them and the mountaineer mountaineer first mentioned who so delicately veiled his probable conclusion that his geological questioner was a "pump edit," might have made his point still stronger by presenting the same evidence from his grandpappy's grandpappy. But the interest of the average mountaineer is public or private history seldom carries him far enough to inquire beyond the generations with whom he has a speaking acquaintance.

Little is known about the first settlers. There are no tombstones.

There are few, comparatively few, traditions. Those existing are apt to be considered exclusively with family traits and incidents illustrated of the courage and generosity of the "cove." The pride of birth as well as the repose of the Vera de Veres is the mountaineer's also. A young man or maiden of matrimonial aspiration would find it a serious drawback to belong to "White Livered" kin especially if the coveted partner occupied the normal position in being allied to good "Highlin' stock."

Any business to be transacted is preceded by a decorous silence. Nothing so offends the good taste of the mountaineer as vulgar haste. The social side of the mountaineer is very charming. He is perfectly at ease without being self-important, he makes few blunders and ignores those that other people make; indeed he is always considerate of other people's feelings. His conversation is characterized by a gentle humor tinged with sarcasm, but whatever he says gains a charm from his peculiar drawl and intonation. Whole phrases may be eluded, but every syllable of every word used is dwelt on with solemn deliberation. He seldom argues and never contradicts, for to contradict is equivalent to "giving" a man the "fin" intolerable affront which can only be wiped out by a rille fight.

But Father Swickard Opposes the Teaching of Sex Hygiene.

REBUKES INDECENT DRESSES.

The Rev. Father Robert Swickard, S. J., of Holy Cross College, at the closing session of the Catholic Teachers' Institute in Boston College Hall, expressed himself as strongly opposed to the teaching of sex hygiene in the schools. He emphasized the point that purity could be taught school children without the taking up of the teaching of sex hygiene, and declared that the vast majority of Catholics were not favorable to sex enlightenment as urged by the present-day exponents of sex hygiene.

"The vast majority of Catholics are against it," said he. "Catholics not the Catholic church, for the church has not passed upon the matter."

The object of the exponents of the study he showed, was an external one, the doing away with disease, etc., while the work of the Catholic teacher in portraying the virtue of purity brought about the highest cleanliness and purity of the heart.

Father Swickard declared that the proposal of teaching sex hygiene in the schools brought to the front three questions:

"Is the school the place for it?"
"Must it be taught at this time?"
"Is it the real need to prevent all the evils?"

He pointed out that knowledge was many times the cause of licentious evil, and expressed grave doubts as to whether the teaching of such knowledge would not do more harm than good.

The object of the teachers should be given to the calling of the attention of the pupils, now and then, to examples of purity. The subjects of evil were handled by the teachings of the church and its great organizations. Children, he pointed out, in their preparation for first communion and afterward for confirmation, were drilled by the priests in questions of purity and evil.

He warned the teachers when speaking on purity to speak delicately, explicitly and impressively, and never to exaggerate.

Father Swickard declared that there was a carnal tendency at the present time for amusements and also for dress. "The teachers," he said, could frown upon them and stem the tide of their indecency by speaking of simplicity of dress, leading their hearers away from any and all desires to copy the "carnal tendency" in dress of the present time. Warnings against improper amusements, "joy riding," etc., delicately impressed upon the minds of the children would tend to wipe out the steps which lead to "surrendering the advance guard of maidenly modesty."

At the conclusion of the discussion, the Rev. George A. Lyons, diocesan supervisor of the parochial schools, made a brief address dwelling upon the benefit of the various sections of the teaching staff coming together as one body. He also expressed in behalf of the sisters, thanks to Father Swickard for the instruction of the week and to the Rev. Thomas J. Gannon, S. J., for his courtesy in allowing the use of the entire college building.

Editorial.....28 | Business.....37

Portsmouth, N. H., Tuesday, September 2, 1913.

Now For Business!

There is a double meaning to the term "Labor Day." The secondary meaning of it is that it marks the close of the vacation time and the beginning of another season of labor. In this sense it is unlike other holidays. Christmas is not over with Christmas Day, but casts its spell over the week between it and the new year. The world does not fully get down to business again until the old year has been rung out.

The nineteenth of April starts thoughts of the idling period of Summer. The baseball parks open and the shore cottages are overhauled.

No one really gets back to work after the Fourth of July, and, following Thanksgiving, people can only sit around letting digestion wait upon appetite.

But Labor Day sends every one back to the job in short order. May all the vacationists return to their useful parts in the prosperity of the community with added strength and zest to push things.

Now for business!—Boston Globe.

Both Railroads Are Controlled by Same "Gang."

"At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania railroad, it was admitted that the corporation's holdings in the New Haven system, now amounts to 90,000 shares against 50,000 a year ago. Whether the Pennsylvania is looking for an investment, or for a part in the game of managing the New England road, it evidently concluded that now is the time to buy."

So runs a press dispatch and yet New Haven stock is below par. The men behind the Pennsylvania is the same gang that is behind the New Haven and it looks as though there was a lot in the meal somewhere. That the New Haven stock is being hammered down for a purpose there is no question.

The Recommendation for More Dry Docks.

The report of the board appointed to investigate and inspect all navy yards was made public on Monday in Washington and the press dispatches contain the announcement that the board favors more docks at Portsmouth. The publicity given this matter should prove a great aid to our representatives in Washington. The board has succeeded in attracting attention to Portsmouth in a manner that should win support. The Herald has contended that Portsmouth should use its influence for dry docks.

THE NATIONAL IMPORTANCE OF THIEF.

France of the South—Miles: You must learn this lesson, or that economy which so affects the North and inspires and stimulates the industry, will overwhelm you.—Henry Clay.

The South has learned the lesson pointed out to it by Henry Clay more than sixty years ago, and now it is on the high road to prosperity. There is a new South in which industry and commerce have an important place, and in which the idea of saving is looked upon favorably.

Thrift seems to be involving the race problem in the South, too. Dr. Hooker T. Washington visited recently the four counties of Tidewater Virginia and the report he made to The Outlook of the condition of the thirty-add thousand happy and prosperous colored people he found there was to the effect that they produce every year farming crops to the value of six million dollars, and everywhere he saw farm well tilled, modern farming implements and attractive dwellings, while no fewer than fifteen hundred farms are owned by the Negroes themselves. All this was evidently the fruits of application to work, continued and persistent labor, thrift and foresight.

But there ought to be nothing sectional or racial about thrift. It is a matter of nation-wide and world-wide importance. All great empires have been thrifty. The Roman empire was founded upon thrift. When extravagance took the place of thrift among the Romans, that empire crumbled and fell.

Prussia is another example of national thrift. This idea was nurtured by the Father of Frederick the Great, who stored up a vast treasure and built up a great army through the strictest economy. This was the forerunner of the great German Empire of today, and the Germans are still noted for their thrift, even when transplanted to this country where the temptations to spend money constantly are so great.

The French people have been referred to so frequently in this connection that the illustration is rather a trite one, but nevertheless that nation is a wonderful model to the world in the matter of thrift. It was the sound savings of her citizens that enabled France, in the end of the Franco-Prussian war, to pay at once in cash the billion dollar indemnity imposed, thus enabling herself from bankruptcy. Knowing this French thrift, Russia, in her hour of need, turned to that country to borrow billions.

French thrift is proverbial and France is a land of happy homes. There is no reason why we in America should not save money. We are able to earn it, we have excellent opportunities for our savings, and the savings banks reward our thrift by paying on liberal interest.

The savings banks are not only doing a beautiful work in inculcating habits of thrift, in gathering and conserving wealth which might otherwise be wasted, or else be imprudently and in furnishing capital for many legitimate business enterprises; but, especially in our larger Eastern cities, with the great influx of alien people, they are keeping step with the churches and the public schools in helping to make good citizens of those who seek our shores as immigrants.

NO ONE TO GATHER BLUE-BERRIES

Pastures and Fields Have An Abundant Supply

Jacot pastures and the fields about Rye are loaded with blueberries, and there are none in the local market excepting one or two tins now and then at 25 cents per quart. The street corners contain the usual number of bums and t. W. W. class who would not spend the time gathering blueberries at $5.00 per day. One Rye woman picked 20 quarts in three hours and a half. And still they cry hard luck and hard times.

THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD LEADS ALL OTHER YARDS IN THE MANUFACTURE OF BOAT SPARS.

Four sets of fine looking spars will be shipped from this navy yard today. Two sets for the battleship Texas at the Norfolk yard, and two sets for the New York at the New York yard.

These spars were made for the new type 50 ft. motor sailing launches and are the first to be tried out. They are to be schooner rigged with two masts.

The spars were made from the best west coast Washington spruce and are hollow and made in two pieces and glued up with a special glue that will stand all kinds of weather, and are then turned in a lathe that no other navy yard is equipped with.

The spars are considered the best that were ever made in this section.

Hollow spars are a great deal stronger and lighter than the solid stocks.

Hollow spars were first recommended for all navy boats by Navy Constructor J. G. Tawressey, while he was stationed at this yard in 1908-9, and were later adopted by the department at Washington for all sailing launches, this being the only yard where this kind of work could be done.

Orders were issued that all boat spars be manufactured at this navy yard.

WARM WEATHER FOR THIS WEEK

Washington, Sept. 2.—Warm weather in the east and southwest, and a cool wave in the northwest were predicted tonight by the weather bureau experts for the first part of the coming week.

"It is likely," the Weekly Bulletin said, "that this cool change will advance eastward and overspread the plains states and the upper Mississippi valley by Wednesday or Thursday, and the eastern and southern states the latter part of the week."

"A disturbance that is now over the northern Rocky mountain region will move eastward, attended by local showers and thunder storms, and cross the great central valleys Tuesday and the Atlantic Wednesday or Thursday. Otherwise the week will be one of generally fair weather.

"There are no indications at the present time of a disturbance in the East Indies."

SONG RECITAL AND FANCY DRESS BALL

Close the Season at Greenacre Inn.

A memorable season at Greenacre Inn, Elliot, was ushered to its close on Saturday last by a song recital in the afternoon and in the evening by a costume dance that afforded amusement and enjoyment to a large company of guests and visitors.

In introducing the artists at the afternoon concert, Mr. E. B. Kinney, the "sol-dant landlord," referred to the ideals of the Greenacre Fellowship, which had inspired Miss Dorothea Thullen and Mr. James Wesley White to come to Greenacre and sing for the Fellowship members and friends. The musical program was as follows:

The grand march of the fancy dress ball was started promptly at 8 o'clock and was led by Mrs. Howard Nelson and Miss Dunbar, and a program of twelve numbers with numerous encores kept the dancers on the floor until a late hour. Among those who appeared in costume were Mr. George F. Goldman, a lady, Ed. F. Townsend, the captain; Messrs. Thurston and Downing, the joy twins; Howard Kinney, the Dutch boy; Master Blum, Napoleon; Harry Dixon, the constable; H. Wilson, a red Indian; the Misses Blanchard, reincarnations; Elizabeth Stephens, Japanese girl; Julia Goldman, Greek maiden; Ella Roberts, Opheila; Miss Emery, Indian princess; Miss Kelly, Greek; Miss Ponteroy, a Dutch girl; Miss Vallmowen, cook; Dorothy Outhank, clown; Jessie Rideout, the nutcracker girl; Margaret Addison, the rose maiden; Irene Washburn, the nightingale; Miss Rohlsbeck, Opheila; Doris Spencey, gypsy girl; Elizabeth Hanson, aster girl; Dinu London, Italian princess; Lena Goldman, Greek girl; Dora Stinson, the chrysanthemum girl; Bertha Voulton, blue bells of Scotland; Mrs. Hadaway, Opheila; Mrs. Outhank, Irish maiden; Mrs. Hopper, East Indian princess.

During the intermission the committee of judges, consisting of Miss Fern of Montclair, N. J., Mrs. E. V. Hammond of Elliot, Mrs. Movius of Buffalo, N. Y., Col. Francis Keefe of Elliot, and Dr. Hills Cole of New York, announced the award of the prizes as follows:

Best lady's costume, Mrs. Outhank, as an Irish girl; best gentleman's costume, Mr. H. Wilson as a red Indian; most fantastic lady's costume, Miss Blanchard as reincarnation, and most fantastic gentleman's costume, Messrs. Thurston and Downing as the Joy Twins.

A number of visitors took advantage of the special "Gala Day Supper" served at the Inn and remained at the hotel throughout both the concert and the dance. At each of these functions there was quite a number of Elliot people present, thus furthering the hopes of the new board of trustees that Greenacre and its activities may become a feature of the summer life of the local inhabitants as well as of the Greenacre colony itself.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR

Only Two For This City--A Deadlock Over the Other--Manchester Has a Similar Situation.

After being in deadlock for two days over the appointment of Police Commissioners for Manchester and Portsmouth, the Governor and Council reached a compromise Saturday evening under which two members of each board were named to guard against contingencies arising from the operations of the law passed by the last Legislature setting the existing board from office Sept. 1.

For Manchester Alvin W. Munn was named for three years, and Frank W. Sargent for one year. For Portsmouth, Frank E. Lavette for three years and Michael J. Griffin for one year.

In Manchester the contest has been waged on the question of the retirement of Chief Michael J. Healey and it is understood that the sympathies of the two men named for the new commission are for and against him.

The men named in Portsmouth are both members of the present board. A large part of the time of the session has been devoted to a discussion as to whether the new commission, if it is antagonistic to him can oust Chief Healey from his position except on charges which will stand for the test of the law courts.

The law provides that the present police commissions in Manchester, Nashua, Portsmouth, Laconia, Somersworth, Dover and Berlin, and in the town of Exeter shall automatically go out of power Sept. 1; but it makes no reference to the forces created by them and has also no reference to the tenure of such force.

All the law says on the subject is that it shall be the duty of the commission to appoint such police officers, constables and superior officers as they in their judgment deem necessary, which is construed to mean that they only have the power to fill vacancies among officers and patrolmen as they may occur.

The new law failing to fix the tenure of the various forces, it is held that the old law fixing such tenure is in full force, as it is not inconsistent with the provision of the new, and that the only way the commissions appointed under the new law can proceed to create forces to their own liking is by preferring charges against the present officers and patrolmen and discharging them after hearing.

In the Manchester case it is understood that if an effort is made to get rid of Chief Healey by charges, the charges will have in real on a substantial foundation, as any finding of the commission adverse to the chief will be taken to the Supreme Court for review.

During the day the Governor appointed the Berlin Police Commission as follows: Thomas W. Peterbrook, one year; Arthur W. Waters, two years; Harry D. Blinn, three years.

The Governor and Council approved the site of the Portsmouth Armory.

GOVERNMENT FINDS VARIANCE IN MOUNTAIN SURVEYS.

In surveying mountain lands in the Southern Appalachian and White Mountain regions with a view to government purchase under the Weeks law, the forest service surveyors find that the tracts in many cases contain more land than the acreage set by the agricultural surveys. Taking the region as a whole, the acreage of land surveyed by the government exceeds by one per cent the acreage believed to be in the tracts by the people offering the lands.

In certain instances the discrepancy of the old surveys, made generally with a compass and by surface measurements, are much more than this amount. Such an instance is that of a tract in northeastern Tennessee, which was supposed by the owners to contain 350 acres. The survey by the forest service, made with a transit and by horizontal measurements, showed the tract to contain 400 acres. Over half of this kind, amounting to from five to eight per cent, have been shown in a good many tracts.

On the other hand, these increases are partly offset in other cases in the rougher hill country, where the old surface measurements gave an excess over the actual amounts the tracts contain by the government's horizontal surveys. Perhaps the most frequent cause of shrinkage is in the location of overhangings by some older grant which results in the elimination from the tract of some part or parts which were considered as belonging to it.

EVERYBODY PRESERVING THIS WEEK.

Fruits and Vegetables Reach Low Water Mark.

This is the greatest preserving week yet, with plums, peaches and tomatoes at the very low water mark. And it will be a poor table that does not offer its fill of cantaloupes, since the finest kind can now be had for five cents apiece.

Peanuts for Meat.

Peanuts are being put forward by one store as a good meat substitute, a quart at six cents when chopped and made into a loaf with onion and rolled crackers and served with gravy being a delicious novelty.

The same market offers a pasteurized butter at just one cent a pound above its best creamery butter, and the washed and germ free product is proving very popular.

Clams to go with the butter are plentiful this week, thanks to the wet weather, a four-quart basket of the Ipswich variety being obtainable for 30 cents.

Prose legs are now in season, and three pairs of large, plump ones can be had for 25 cents by those who care to emulate the artist, Iphigene.

Recently the vacationers are lazy, however, or else they have been too active in previous seasons, for brook trout remain 75 cents, and quite out of reach of the common or garden variety of pocketbook.

Fruit Plentiful.

The housewife bent on preserving will according to the Boston Herald find peaches at 30 cents for a 24-pound basket, tomatoes in 32-pound baskets for 55 cents, grapes 15 cents a basket, pears in 12-pound baskets for 50 cents, green ginger for preserving at 15 cents a pound, five-pound baskets of big Kelsey plums for 55 cents and 1-2 pound baskets of big Kelsey peaches for 35 cents, and five-pound baskets of different qualities for 50 and 60 cents. Now onions for the chili sauce are 45 cents a peck, and even oranges for the marmalade can be had for 40 cents a dozen.

Cucumbers are down to three cents the small ones, good celery 10 cents a bunch, and apples of several table varieties 20 cents a dozen.

Beans, native, green and other varieties were only five cents after yesterday's buying, carrots were four cents, green corn 10, and sweet potatoes eight cents for 25 cents.

Eggs have gone up to 40 cents, though, and the best butter to 38 cents. One woman whose family is large and hearty says she is going to make a practice of giving them fish instead of eggs for breakfast this winter. She is getting soup for 15 cents, large sea bass for 20, swordfish for 20, tinker mackerel for 10-14 and small mackerel for 8 and 15 cents to fry for breakfast.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

"I thought that in the 15 years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible 'fool' question; but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed medicine—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the office, but returned in a few minutes, pulled his head in the doorway and asked, 'Shall I drop this in the eye before meals or after?'—Everybody's Magazine.

George S. Chandler, 420 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I do a great deal of walking in my work and in this way my kidneys became weakened, causing me much suffering. About three years ago I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. They cured me and I have had little trouble since." Sometimes when I overwork or do any heavy lifting, I notice lameness in my back but on such occasions a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills bring relief. I have recommended this excellent remedy to many of my friends and in every instance where it has been tried, benefit has followed. Doan's Kidney Pills can be procured at Philbrick's Drug Store and should be given a thorough trial by every kidney sufferer."

EVERY JAPANESE KNOWS WHERE PORTSMOUTH IS

THE PEACE CHURCH

Rev. P. C. Daito at Peace Service Speaks on Treaty of Portsmouth --Fine Musical Program.

The eighth anniversary of the wonderful Peace Service at the Christ church when the Russians gathered after the signing of the Treaty of Portsmouth to sing a Te Deum, which was held on Sunday afternoon, was probably the most interesting since the first, owing to the fact that a well known Japanese minister of the gospel made the Peace address. Rev. P. C. Daito is the pastor of the St. John's church in Tokyo and he had good cause to remember the signing of the Treaty of Portsmouth, for when the terms were known in Tokyo the mob took possession of the city and for several hours ran wild. They burned several churches, among them that of Mr. Daito, first demanding if it was an American church, and then demanding proof in the way of an American flag which unfortunately he did not have and the mob burned his church.

The entire service was especially fine for the pastor, Rev. C. W. Prime had arranged a musical program for his choir that was especially good and highly sung. The entire order of exercises was as follows:

Processional No. 335.
Hail, Holy, Holy Lord.
God of Hosts, eternal King.
By the heavens and earth adored;
Angels and archangels sing.
Chanting everlastingly.
O the blessed Trinity.
For Peace.
For the Unity of God's People.
For the Country.

The Blessing, Seven-fold Amen Stainer

Processional.

Dr. Daito's address was as follows:

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God."

"Some Japanese are not quite sure whether New York is in America or England. But all Japanese are sure that Portsmouth is in America. Old and young, learned and unlearned, all Japanese know where Portsmouth is. They know this city is the peace where the Peace Treaty was signed—the Peace Treaty of Portsmouth. Portsmouth means to them the end of war and the beginning of peace."

To the President of the United States we owe the restoration of peace and the ever-increasing friendship between Russia and Japan. To him we owe our salvation from the disaster of further and greater destruction of life and property. Should he not have invited us at the opportune time we should have seen undoubtedly a much larger number of widows and orphans and bereaved parents. It was inevitable (as some tell us) then the best thing is to stop it at the earliest possible moment. Your country did this in the Russo-Japanese war, the first instance in the world's history, if I am not mistaken, of such action on the part of a third nation friendly to both contestants.

Your country gave the world a new example, made a new start. And ever since the Treaty of Portsmouth it has become a happy habit of the world to seek a third nation to stop international conflicts in a friendly manner. Does this not mean that we have made a long stride towards the day of the world's peace? Does this not mean that we have drawn nearer to the day of an effective arbitration treaty?

Or later, for war is too great a contradiction for human beings to endure. War claims a righteous motive but is based on animal instinct. It demands self-sacrifice for selfish purposes, loyalty for a deception, humanity for bloodshed, construction for destruction. War is certainly too much of a contradiction for an honest Christian to endure. It cannot continue. The day of peace is bound to come, but not for a dogmatic reason alone, not by arbitration treaty alone. Pure reason is weak before animal instinct. When a Nation impulsively wants to war it always seeks some logical ground and in its opinion finds it. But never in the world's history was a war begun on a pure logical reason. Whatever the reason might be, however good and righteous it might seem to be, the real reason and the real motive for war has ever been naked selfishness, animal instinct by brutality, and lack of human feeling.

After all the problem of war and peace is a moral problem. It is true that more intimate and international commercial relationships make it improbable for war to break out easily and we can find many good reasons in this line of argument.

But above all and beyond all else, true Christian sentiment and true human feeling must predominate. If we shall win these we shall win the peace of the world. Therefore our efforts must be concentrated sympathetically and enthusiastically for the promotion of civilization, and development of a better feeling and nobler sentiment. We must all come to love peace and to hate war, and I am thankful that in this respect we are succeeding.

Unfortunately, Japan has received the reputation of being a war-like people. This is the greatest injustice we have ever suffered. It is difficult to know what is the ground for this misconception. Is it because Japan has had too big wars in the last half century? The United States has had two big wars in the same length of time. While the history of modern Europe is simply a long list of wars—one after another, Japan had enjoyed an unbroken period of peace for three hundred years.

The Japanese are not lovers of war but lovers of peace. What is more characteristic of our people than the love of the fine arts—hand carving, painting, engraving, the making of the China vase, the cloisonne, the growing of beautiful flowers, the making of beautiful gardens? When you call the Japanese a warlike people you forget the ninety-nine things and remember the one. When you call them a peace-loving people you remember the ninety-nine things and forget the one. I hope you will realize the importance of the situation. A person is tempted to live up to his reputation. Japan is young and a great deal depends upon the world's opinion of her. Give her the tender, gentle name of peace and she will live up to it.

Japan has changed a great deal in the last half century. This is noticeable in her attitude towards cruelty. Fifty years ago criminals were subjected to all sorts of tortures. Capital punishment was practiced in public places, and the victims were exhibited by the way-side for public inspection and the passer-by looked at them with perfect indifference. But times have changed. Cruel practices have been stopped. A keen sense of bitterness against cruelty has been developed year after year. When I was a little boy, about twenty-five years ago, it was an ordinary thing to see cruel pictures and performances. I well remember one—the exhibition of the tortures of human souls in Hell, the cruelty of which was beyond description. The performance of Hara Kira or suicide on the stage and its agony, was an ordinary thing. But, thank God, we do not see such things today. Public sentiment is against it. Any show that suggests such cruelty is becoming more and more unpopular.

Today Japan has advanced very much in the way of refinement and benevolence. There are strong organizations to protect children and dumb animals from abuse and from cruel treatment.

I remember that in the China-Japanese war the Japanese army was as cruel as well as the Chinese for indulging in cruel practices. But in the Russo-Japanese war not a single complaint was heard. It was warfare, but civilized warfare and better intentions prevailed.

I remember that when the war was over some young people of a church in Tokyo had a gathering and invited an army officer, who had just returned from the front, to address them, expecting to hear from him a thrilling story, but to their surprise he had nothing to tell of that sort. On the contrary, he denounced war as the greatest crime and pleaded with the young men for a permanent peace.

Bitter feelings against war and cruelty have been growing in Japan in this respect as much as in the other nations of the world. And now it is growing, and, thank God, will continue to grow. This feeling, this sentiment, we must nourish, encourage, and develop. The possibility of a universal peace lies in this fundamental fact. Let all Christians emphasize this fact. Let writers write it. Let all others cry aloud for it until the whole world is absorbed in a real sense of the love of peace, and bitter hatred of cruelty. Until then, no world wide peace will be assured. Without such fundamental things—this humane feeling, the arbitration Treaty will be merely vain words.

May God bless the Nations of the earth and hasten the Day of a real and universal peace.

CROPS GOOD AT COUNTY FARM.

Drouth Did no Great Damage and Everything Looks Well.

Despite the protracted drouth, in a visit to Exeter Saturday, Sept. 2, Albert J. Trotter stated that if early frosts do no damage the year's crops at the County Farm in Brentwood will be satisfactory. Of hay, 147 tons have been housed as against 172 last year. In bulk, however, Sept. Trotter estimates this year's crop fully equal to last year's. The soil of the farm is clayey and cattle are bedded with sand to be worked into the soil.

About 100 acres are under cultivation. This includes 11 acres of pasture just cleared and planted to potatoes, mangel wurtzels and onions. All have arrived. An artesian well, 241 feet deep, and springs have given an abundant and excellent water supply. At the fair to be held in Newington next Monday, Sept. Trotter will exhibit seven fine Holstein-Friesian cattle bred on the farm.

CHIEF HURLEY AND ENTIRE FORCE GET REAPPOINTMENTS

Police Commissioners Meet and Organize-Swear In All Officers.

The newly appointed police commission met and organized at eight o'clock on Monday morning at City Hall and immediately afterwards voted new appointments to Marshal Michael Hurley, Deputy Marshal G. H. Ducker, Captain Thomas Burke and all of the regular patrolmen.

All of the men were present including the night force and Mayor D. W. Badger administered the oath of office in the presence of City Clerk Drew.

The commissioners next appointed or reappointed the special police officers who are on duty at the two theatres and at the Frank Jones Brewing company and they were sworn in during the day. This was to prevent any legal question which might arise.

As predicted there was no change whatever in the make up of the police force here, and none will be made. In Dover the police commissioners issued a temporary appointment of fifteen days to all of the force and the result is that none of the force known where they stand. In Manchester and

Marshal Hurley

Nashua no change was made in the regular force.
